ARTICLE 19 – (1) At the beginning of each semester, the students of the university are required to renew their registration within the time period indicated in the academic calendar prepared by the Senate and announced by the Rector’s Office. This process involves selecting courses under the guidance of their advisors, paying the relevant tuition fees and completing other liabilities to the university.

PART FOUR

Teaching and Education

Curricula and Course Load

ARTICLE 20 – (1) The courses to be taken by the students in each semester consist of required and elective courses, laboratory, practice, project, thesis and similar studies

(2) Required courses are the courses that the student is obliged to take, whereas the electives are the courses that the student selects from among various groups of courses.

(3) The courses in the curriculum are taken in accordance with the course hours, credits and prerequisites, if any, within the framework of the below mentioned conditions. Average credit per semester is calculated by dividing total credits of the program courses by 8. The regular course load for a student is between -2 and +2 of average credit per semester.

a) Students taking courses for the first time or repeating courses from previous semesters are required to first register for these courses. If these courses to be repeated or to be taken for the first time are in the same semester, students need to take the ones from the earliest semester.

b) “F” and “FX” grades show that the student has failed that course. The students with these grades are obliged to repeat the course upon the first availability of the mentioned course, if it is a required program course.

c) Students who do not satisfy the prerequisites of a course cannot register for that course.

d) In case of multiplicity or conflict of the courses a student should take or repeat it is possible not to take some or all of the courses in the curriculum of that semester.

d) The students are able to add or drop courses within the period indicated on the academic calendar. Add/drop is subject to the conditions applicable for regular registration such as prerequisite courses, maximum course load, minimum required course load and conflicting courses. The add/drop period cannot exceed two weeks following the start of the semester.
Students cannot drop the F and FX grade required courses they are repeating or the courses of the first semester.

e) Prior to the deadline of the withdrawal period indicated in the academic calendar, students are able to withdraw from two courses maximum in a given semester and a maximum of six courses throughout their education. These students receive a “W” for these courses. The approval of the student’s advisor is required for withdrawal. No refund is available for the fees related to “W” courses. Students cannot withdraw from the required courses of the first semester and from the required courses to be repeated with grade “F” or “FX” throughout their undergraduate program. The mark of “W” does not hinder graduation. Students cannot withdraw from courses in the last four weeks of the academic semester.

Course Load and Credit Load

ARTICLE 21 – (1) The number of examinations, practical assignments and other assignments that the students are responsible for each course and the contribution of these to the final grades as well as the requirements of the final exam are determined by the instructor of the course and disclosed to the students at the onset of the semester.

(2) Depending on the characteristics of a course, a final exam may be excluded, upon the approval of the relevant administrative board.

(3) The regular course load advised to students is equal to the average number of credits per semester in a given program, plus or minus two credits. The average number of credits per semester is calculated by dividing the total number of credits in the curriculum by 8.

(4) The course load of a student can be increased or decreased with the approval of the student’s advisor. However, students registered for the first time in the first semester of a diploma program are not able to exceed the regular course load of that semester. Exceeding the regular course load (i.e. overloading) by 8 credits is not allowed. The minimum course load is 9 credits per semester, which can be reduced to 6 credits with the decision of the relevant administrative board. The students who are expected to graduate in a maximum of two semesters are not subject to that condition.

Late Registration and Unregistered Student Status

ARTICLE 22 – (1) Students who fail to register by the designated registration dates may also register late during the add/drop period indicated in the academic calendar. Students who also fail to register before the end of the add/drop period are not registered unless they can show valid acceptable reasons for the delay, to be approved by the relevant administrative board within two weeks from the end of the add/drop period. Moreover, students registering late are obliged to fulfil the additional requirements determined by the Senate.

(2) Students who do not renew their registration become unregistered students. Unregistered students cannot enjoy the rights to which registered students are entitled to. The period spent while a student is unregistered is included in the term of study. Students wishing to reactivate their registrations will have to pay the tuition fee for the year and are not able to benefit from the scholarships they were previously awarded.

Attendance

ARTICLE 23 – (1) Students are liable to attend the theoretical and practical class hours, examinations and other academic studies as required by the instructors.
(2) The attendance requirements will be announced by the instructor at the onset of the semester.

Internship

ARTICLE 24 – (1) For programs that require the completion of an internship program, the rules of conduct of the practicum are determined and declared by the Senate.

Double Major and Minor Programs

ARTICLE 25 – (1) The Senate might open double major and minor programs. The regulations governing these programs are determined by the Senate.

PART FIVE

Assessment

Examinations

ARTICLE 26 – (1) Each semester ends with a final examination period, exact dates of which are announced in the academic calendar.

(2) The final exam dates are determined and announced at least four weeks prior to the final examination period of fall and spring semesters and two weeks prior to the final exam period of summer session.

(3) Apart from the final exam, at least one midterm exam is to be given for each course at each semester.

(4) The instructor may assess the assignments, laboratory practices and similar activities as midterm and/or final exam.

(5) The courses for which no midterm and/or final exam will be given are decided on by the relevant faculty board.

(6) The excuses of students, who could not take the final exam due to illness or other reason, are to be evaluated by the University Excuse Committee. Students whose excuses are accepted valid by the committee will be entitled to a make-up exam. The excuses of students who failed to attend a midterm examination will be directly evaluated by the instructor of the course. If the instructor accepts the excuses, the students will be offered instruments to be able to make up for the unattended midterm, such as make-up exams, weight adjustments of the final exam, or assignment of an additional project/essay or similar procedure.

(7) Instructors are expected to submit letter grades to the Rector’s Office and Registrar’s Office information system within one week following the final exam date of the related course.

(8) In case an error of fact is found in the submitted grades, the course instructor has to apply to the relevant Dean’s Office with a written explanation. Grade errors can only be revised with the decision of the related administrative board. The correction of errors in the submitted grades should be completed before the end of the next registration period.
Exam papers are to be stored for two years.

Grade Appeals

ARTICLE 27 – (1) Students may request their instructor to review a grade for any exam in a course within one week after the grade announcements. If the appeal is rejected, students may submit a written appeal to the relevant Dean’s Office. The relevant board may, in turn, designate a review committee consisting of three members to make the final decision. If the decision is in favor of changing the result of the exam and if this requires a change in the final semester course grade of the student, the final grade is corrected. For courses not offered by the faculties, an evaluation is to be made by the Rector’s Office and the University Administrative Board.

Letter Grades and Marks

ARTICLE 28 – (1) For each course, students are to be given one of the following grades by the course instructor as a result of the required exams or similar assessment instruments:

Grade Point Averages and Academic Standings

ARTICLE 30 – (1) Academic standings of the students are determined by calculating their grade point averages at the end of each semester.

1. The total credit points obtained from a course are calculated by multiplying the course’s number of credit hours and the grade point value received.

2. Semester Grade Point Average (SPA) is calculated by dividing the total credit points obtained from all the courses a student has taken in the related semester by the total number of credit hours received in those courses.

3. Cumulative Grade Point Average (GPA) is calculated by taking into consideration all the courses a student has taken since the beginning of the program. If there are repeated courses, the last grade obtained from the course, replaces the previous grade and is included in the grade point average calculation.

4. Calculated semester and cumulative grade point averages are rounded to two decimal places.

5. Students may repeat courses for which they have received a letter grade “DD” and/or “DC” in order to raise their grade point averages. Courses with letter grades “CC” and above cannot be repeated.
(7) Students with cumulative grade point averages of 2.00 and above are in good academic standing.

(8) Students with cumulative grade point averages less than 2.00 are placed on academic probation; probationary students are not entitled to course overload. These students must first repeat the courses from which they have received conditionally passing grades (“DD” or “DC”) to raise their grade point averages.

(9) Course overloads of students in good academic standing and mandatory course repeats of students on probation are regulated on the basis of the principles determined by the Senate.iii

(10) Every semester, students with SPAs between 3.50 and above qualify as “High Honor” students, and those with SPAs between 3.00 and 3.49 qualify as “Honor” students, provided that they have taken the regular course load and have a cumulative GPA of 2.00 or above.iv

PART SIX

Leave of Absence and Withdrawal from University

Leave of Absence

ARTICLE 31 – (1) With the condition of providing necessary documents, students may apply for leaves of absence due to health related matters, military service, education abroad or other academic, financial or familial obligations, as well as other extraordinary reasons accepted by the University Administrative Board.

(2) The application for leave of absence must be submitted to the relevant Dean’s Office by a petition with supporting documents any time up to and including the last working day of the fourth week following the start of the classes. Applications after the end of this period are not processed. The request for leave of absence is granted upon the approval of the relevant faculty administrative board.

(3) In the case of immediate sickness, a serious accident or other extraordinary circumstances occurring after the end of the application period for leave of absence, the status of the student is evaluated by the University Administrative Board.

(4) Students are entitled to leave the University for a maximum of two consecutive semesters and four semesters in total during their term of the study. In obligatory situations upon the proposal of the relevant faculty administrative board the term can be extended with the decision of the University Administrative Board.

(5) Students requesting leave of absence from the university must pay half the tuition fee of the pertinent semester and clear all their debts to the university prior to the activation of the process. The tuition fees paid for the period of leave will not be deducted from the following semester’s fees. Students considered on approved leave upon the decision of the University Administrative Board after the indicated deadline, have to pay the full tuition fee for the respective semester.

Withdrawal from University

ARTICLE 32 – (1) Students who wish to withdraw from the university must apply in writing to the relevant dean’s office and follow the procedures required by the university. These students must fulfil their tuition fee and other financial obligations in order to receive their high-school diplomas and other related personal documents from the registrar’s files. If requested, students can be given a document indicating their grades. The notarized copies of the high-school diploma and other documents required at the stage of registration will be kept on file in the Registrar’s Office.

(2) If the student’s withdrawal request is received prior to the start of courses, the student is not obliged to pay any tuition fee. Fifty percent of the tuition fee paid for the pertinent semester will be refunded to the student if the withdrawal request is filed any time up to and including the last working day of the fourth week following the start of the classes in a regular semester or the second week following the start of courses in the summer session. No refund will be available after this deadline for withdrawal requests.

PART SEVEN

Graduation

Special Requirements

ARTICLE 33 – (1) Students must spend their last semester before graduation, excluding the summer session in TEDU. At least half of the total credit points required for graduation as well as the final exam grades, which are countable at GPA, must be obtained from courses completed at TEDU.

Diploma and Honors Documents

ARTICLE 34 – (1) Students who successfully complete all courses in the undergraduate program in which they are registered with a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.00 are eligible, with the condition of fulfilling the other graduation requirements, to receive the “Undergraduate Diploma of TED University” upon the decision of the relevant administrative board.

(2) Students with a grade point average of at least 2.00 but failing to fulfil the graduation conditions due to “F” (not valid for FX) letter grades in a maximum of two courses, may be given the opportunity to take an exam or to undertake an equivalent academic project by the relevant administrative board, upon the favorable opinion of the relevant instructor. With this exam or project, the student can compensate for the letter grade(s) of “F” without repeating the course(s).

(3) Students who complete their undergraduate education within 9 semesters or less with cumulative grade point averages between 3.00 and 3.49 graduate with “Honor,” and the ones with cumulative grade point averages of 3.50 or above graduate with “High Honor.” Students who have received disciplinary penalties during the course of their education in the university, however, are not entitled to such status. Students graduating with “Honors” and “High Honor” graduates are issued an honorary certificate indicating their status along with their diplomas.

(4) The requirements for diplomas and graduation of students earning double major or minor degrees are determined by the Senate.

(5) In the event that a diploma is lost, a new copy is issued only once, provided that a written request is submitted, the related fee is paid and a lost notice is published in a newspaper. The new copy is printed with the phrase “second copy” on it.
Associate Degree

ARTICLE 35 – (1) An “Associate Degree Diploma” is awarded to students who choose to leave the university or are expelled from the university without completing their degree program, but have completed all the courses of the first four semesters or at least half of the total credit of the programs that they are registered in with a grade point average of at least 2.00 upon their request.

Discipline

PART EIGHT

Execution and Enforcement

Enforcement

ARTICLE 37 – (1) This regulation comes into effect on the date it was published.

Execution

ARTICLE 38 – (1) This regulation is executed by TED University Rector.

i. University Senate Decision 29.08.2012 – No.2012/5:
The minimum number of students for opening an elective course is 10 for undergraduate programs, and 15 for the first year and second year service courses. This criteria is not valid for the establishment period (until the first graduates are produced). For the summer school the designation of the tuition fee per credit and the minimum number of paid students for opening a course is done according to the current budget limitations. These rules are defined and announced each year along with the summer school decisions.

ii. University Senate Decision 01.08.2013 – No. 2013/6:
The tuition fee payments done after the deadline announced in the Academic Calendar will be subject to a late fine of 30 TL per each work day (the respective payment is available until the end of add/drop period at the latest).

iii. University Senate Decision 29.08.2012 – No. 2012/5:
Compulsory course repetition for probation students: Because the minimum GPA for graduation is 2.00, new course registration is restricted for probation students in order to allow them to increase their grade point averages by repeating F, FX, DD and DC courses. The students who cannot achieve the satisfactory status due to lack of credits, repeat the courses in which they have received F, FX, DD and DC letter grades in order to attain satisfactory status. However if there are no courses they were graded with F, FX, DD, DC they can register to new courses if their course load allows.

The satisfactory status is defined as,

\[ GPA = \begin{cases}
1.60 & \text{for students with 50 credits or less,} \\
1.70 & \text{for students with 51-100 credits,} \\
1.80 & \text{for students with 101 and more credits}
\end{cases} \]

“Credit” denotes to “credit completed.”

Excessive course load: The students are to follow a package program in their first semesters, excessive course load is not allowed. Probation students cannot exceed their normal course load. No student can be allowed to receive more than 8 credits over their normal course load.

University Senate Decision 29.08.2012 – No. 2012/5 (Correction of the error of fact):
The students whose general point average is between 3.00-3.49 are awarded as “Honor”, those who achieve a general point average of 3.50 and above are awarded as “High Honor” students with the pre-condition of being registered to normal course load each semester.

i. University Senate decision dated 01.12.2016 and No. 2016/14:
The request to extend the deadline to change the grading period for “I-incomplete” grades for courses not changed into letter grades within 15 days, to the beginning of the following semester’s registration period at the latest by a relevant board decision,

It was decided that the grading period for “I-incomplete” grades, for courses not changed into letter grades within 15 days, could be extended to the beginning of the following semester’s registration period at the latest by a relevant board decision.

University Senate Decision dated 01.06.2017 and No. 2017/06:
IP (In Progress) grade is given to students who are successfully continuing non-credit courses (except the Master’s Thesis course).

University Senate Decision dated 19.06.2014 and No. 2014/8:
It has been decided to add the following expression to “NP” entry under the heading “Other Grade Symbols Used” in the Article 29 of TED University Academic Rules and Regulations for Undergraduate Study; “In case the symbol “NP” is used, related instructor is responsible to change this grade into a letter grade during the period when make-up grades are entered into system. If the NP symbol remains unchanged at the end of this period, it is automatically changed to F.”
University Senate Decision dated 21.03.2019 and No. 2019/5:
It has been decided that the expression in Paragraph 10 of the Article 30 in TED University Academic Rules and Regulations for Undergraduate Study is to be replaced with the following expression:

ARTICLE 30- (10) "Every semester, students with SPAs between 3.50 and above qualify as “High Honor” students and those with SPAs between 3.00 and 3.49 qualify as “Honor” students, provided that they have taken the credited regular or excessive course load of the related undergraduate program and have a cumulative GPA of 2.00 or above.”
